

It appears to me the petitioner is seeking the FEC make it easier for them to aggregate the information they seek. So, they ask the FEC to add burdens on the committees, rather than invest their own resources into solutions for the problem they seek to solve.

While I think it's appropriate to require the committees to specify the account into which a contribution is assigned, or the account from which an expenditure is made, it is unnecessary to specify the descriptive terms used by the committees.

That is an unnecessary burden from both a regulatory and administrative perspective.
